

I don't think that's a trait related to party
user1

It depends on the person
user1

What do you think?
user1

I would feel like the prompt is a script reaching for something else, I believe.
user2

Like Big Brother would be watching me if I discussed the prompt about hypocrisy.
user2

I don't know what you mean. They want us to talk about republicans or democrats being hypocritical
user1

Oh, Democrats are more for sure.
user2

Ok
user1

Why?
user1

I'm certain of that.
user2

I think most politicians are hypocritical
user1

Why? You stated.
user2

They say things and then do other things. Most people care about themselves, so they're not really being honest when they want to do what's best for the people
user1

But what's your example for democrats?
user1

Would you believe them if they ALL said they were all sent to D.C., the nation's capital to NOT have relations with the public regarding hypocrisy.
user2

I really don't understand what you're saying. Who is them?
user1

and what is "relations regarding hypocrosy"?
user1

I believe I got sidetracked from the prompt on account of a mistake? I don't understand either. Who is them?!
user2

You said "them". How should I know what you meant?
user1

Simply put and to answer your question, Democrats are good folks to the exact wrong people, I guess.
user2

That may be simply put, but it doesn't answer my question in any way
user1

You wouldn't know, because of the lag and delay in the RTT.
user2

what's the RTT?
user1

Is it supposed to at any point?
user2

I don't get it? What do you mean "what's the RTT"?
user2

I find it quite difficult to believe that we are having a conversation on the topic
user1

That's wrong
user2

why?
user1

There exists absolutely no "hypocrisy" within either party!
user2

I feel so
user2

so...you're changing your mind?
user1

Did I ever?
user2

because that's not what you said before
user1

Maybe, that's neither here nor there
user2

how are you answering me in the future? Is that why we can't discuss the hypocrosy topic?
user1

What does the Constitution "say" about this issue. Do you have any answers at all?
user2

I don't know the answer to that. In fact, I doubt there is one, since the constitution doesn't assign roles to political parties or their members
user1

The answer to the writing prompt is..
user2
